

Leibee Ranch Reports Amazing Results Feeding Vigortone

Longtime Vigortone Dealer Karen Leibee of Baker, Montana, shared this story with us awhile back.

“We are done calving – a 101% calf crop. Had a set of twins born March 20. If someone would have ever told us we could have 100% calf crop, there is no way I would have believed them. I truly believe that using Vigortone has short-term and long-term effects. Of the cows we have now, the mothers were all on Vigortone. We started on the program in 1994. Every cow 11 and under has been on Vigortone since conception. There is only one cow in our bunch over 11 years old, and she is 12. Isn’t that just amazing? What a good deal it has been for us to have found Vigortone.”

Karen’s area sales manager is Casey Dey. Vigortone salutes Karen and Jack Leibee for their successful cattle operation and outstanding performance results with Vigortone.

Jack Leibee feeds Vigortone mineral in a trough to the Leibee cowherd. The Leibeas have also found it is an excellent way to feed Forage Pro. Their cattle winter strictly on hay and Vigortone mineral. Forage Pro is used in the fall grazing season when grass is dry and unpalatable.
